We're All in This Together!

e're in this together" sums it all up in one sentence. Whether we're working or playing or "just hanging out," we are all driven towards each other in our mutual pursuit of life, love and happi-ness. As the bond of our friendships grow, we learn from each other and combine our different interests into a budding community which functions solely on our cooperation to live and work together. We laugh; we love; we achieve; we struggle together. And it is our friendship that keeps us going, pursuing and reaching for the stars. It is the songs we enjoy and share with each other that remind us of the beauty we bring out of our friends. It's a jukebox of selections that emphasizes the combination of individuals that we are sharing, loving, growing, learning together. Through good times and bad, when we're close or far away, we feel connected our love for each other and what we are together: friends 'till the end. Isn't it nice knowing that?

midst all the you're young." homework. tests, and deadlines for school, students at PHS survived the hard times thanks in part to friends. Friends enhanced the fun times during the school year and also made it easier to enjoy moments of victory even more. 'Friends are always there when you need someone to be with," said junior Jane Takenouchi. 'They laugh with you and make you happy. Being able to talk to people like that is very speical; and since chances are you will not have the same triends when you go to college, high school is the time to do the crazy things that can be done only when happiness and pleasure to me," explained Susan Con-ner. "They show support for me and are always there when I need them. They give me a reason to smile at school."

Not only did friends make good times, but they also helped during the hard times as well. Friends were there for us to study with before a hard exam, or to comfort us if we did not make the Homecoming Court or to pump us up for the big game coming up. The thing that will definitely be remembered most from our memories of PHS will be the friendships that we shared.

tion in showing school spirit, and this year was no different. Students stuck together in raising money for their respective classes and demonstrated great pride in the school.

"We had a new, fresh start because of the new administration," said Aleni Estacio. "We were more unified as a student body. Everyone worked hard to make PHS the best!"

"Pep Squad, among others, showed spirit throughout the year," said pep commissioner Laura Chaparian. "The girls worked together as a unit for more crowd involvement. At pep rallies their high spirited atti-HS has had a great tradi-tude reflected on the audience's participation."

> Another way PHS showed spirit was at Spirit Day, where students put up posters and decorated certain parts of the campus to get all involved to try to raise money for their classes. At assemblies students hooted and cheered for the pep squad, the band and invited guests who performed. Furthermore, students constantly and willingly attended sporting events and cheered for PHS, knowing that the game was not over until the final second.

> As we look back on the 1996-'87 school year, we can be proud of our traditional school spirit that will always remain strong.

Key Club and Z-Club

B oth the Key and Z clubs have been more active this year than ever.
Their number of activities doubled from those of last year.

The Key Club decorated Christmas Tree Lane, worked a blood drive with the Z-Club, helped with the Red Cross Teen to Teen Hotline, ushered at several school activities and held a canned food drive. The highlight of the year was the members attendance at a luncheon honoring first lady Nancy Reagan at Ambassador College.

"This year has been a time for major rebuilding of the club," explained president Jim Rose. "We had not been very active in the past. We took the opportunity to take part in constructive activities together with our peers."

Officially in its second year, the Z-Club had equal success and enjoyment during the year. They adopted a child from Honduras in Central America and adopted a family during Christmas which they entertained for Christmas dinner. In addition, they parked cars for a foreign language conference, supervised wheel chair basketball and a bowling tournament at Bahama Lanes, volunteered to work at the gift shop at the Huntington Memorial Hospital and held a dance once a month for the handicapped at Victory Park

Society Honors 19 Journalists

he PHS chapter of Quill and Scroll, the national honor society for journalism, chose 19 students to receive the annual award.

"I was quite honored," said "Chronicle" news editor Estela Morales, "when I found out that I had been chosen."

Members of the yearbook staff, the Chronicle staff, the Red and White football program and the Creative Writing Club were eligible if they were juniors or seniors, had been participants for at least one year and were in the top third of their class.

The students were chosen on the basis of their work as well as their attitude and willingness to give extra time when it was needed.

"Among those picked for Quill and Scroll," said Adviser Ann Drury, "are students that are on the top of all the journalism classes I have ever had."

Because of the dedication of these honored students, school publications were once again of high quality with both the yearbook and newspaper entered in competitions.

These determined PHS journalists prepared themselves well through their many weekends of work to make the vital deadlines.

"It will be a challenge," said junior Mane Demonteverde, "to do even better next year. High standards have been set."

"They came through successfully," added co-adviser Frances Sumner, "They upheld their commitment to their program by giving up their time unselfishly. It's been a pleasure to work with CSF the past two years with these wonderful students."

Because of hard work, CSF was able to raise money and have a successful spring banquet, honoring its members, especially the graduating seniors.

"We were successful," said secretary Aleni Estacio. "The tutoring was fu, yet hard and discouraging as well, because of the effort required of both the tutor and the student seeking help. Overall, though, it was a great experience."

You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, proved to be an over whelming success. At tendance was booming as people of all ages flocked to see their lavorite "Peanuts" characters. One viewer said, "This is the best PHS musical I have seen in 25 years."

The cast, which starred loel Hunter as Charlie Brown, Amy Blackshaw as Lucy, David Bar nathan as Linus, Tony Vayos as Schroeder, Demetrius Cook

Patty, was of supreme calliber and one of the most talented casts ever a mbled on the PHS stage really enjoyed doing the show," claimed Blackshaw. "My character Lucy was really obnox

HS' fall musical, jous, so I got to have a lot of fun with

Vayos said that though this 'www.as not as senous as the usual productions at PHS, it made his role ditticult. "Without all the sets and props, it was more challenging to depict my character," he said

I was really glad to see a large audience," said Barnathan. "A good audience makes it so much is a for an actor to perform up to his or her ability. And with such a talented cast as this, there was a lot of talent, dedication and profession ilism six with

Thanks in part to Carolyn Shan non, musical director and Cassan fra Renzett director and choreo grapher, Charlie Brown was a delightful and entertaining treat for everyone

Varsity Polo Says 'Surprise' to '86 Season

efore the 1986 water polo season there were many doubts about the quality of the varsity water polo team, Many, including some of the returning players, left that this year's team could not measure up to competition of the season. Even the news papers counted the team out before the season began, All had figured Muir would place first (and it did); Glendale, second; Hoover, third; Ar. cadia fourth; and Pasadena would finish the season in fifth or sixth place.

But to everyone's surprise Coach Brian Biery, along with the leadership of four-year varsity player Craig Hinkel, three-year varsity players Lance Meredith, Jimmy Rose and two-year varsity player Matt Vodnoy, led the PHS team to a repeated 13-6 record, having beaten Crescenta Valley, Arcadia and Glendale, a glonous victory, in league play.

Unfortunately, the team failed to reach CIF because of two losses in league playotis, one of which was due to the absence of goalie Alex Lyle. The second defeat was a hardfought game by the Bulldogs, losing to Hoover, 12-9

The team finished fourth overall Hinkel made first team All-League with Meredith and Rose making sec ond team All-League. First-year players Bryan Kustner and Lyle, along with junior Vodnoy, received All League Honorable Mention.

New Coach Brings Spirit

his year's badminton team proved having a new coach and many new players can still lead to a successful season.

New head coach Steve Seaford, who also coached the IV football and soccer teams brought spirit and enthusiasm to the team. "The season was a lot of fun," he said, "and because of my experiences in racquet sports such as tennis, racquetball, and squash, I felt I was best qualified for the position." The players were again successful because of the return of many of last year's best players, including Elena Mercado, Angela Jeter, Heather Dagen, Kevin Dixon, Michael Baker, and J.P. Duboucheron. New players such as Armine Boldi and Armine Ishkanian also contributed greatly to the team's success.

All of the team agreed that Glendale was the toughest opponent because of their excellent coaching staff and their continually great players year after year.

swim team got off to a strong start at the beginning of the season. "A lot of new people have come in and there is a lot of enthusiasm and spirit," said junior Bianca Altmetz, "I think we're going to have a good team." Altmet Cindy Livermore, Suzie ı ırısh, Anıta Forsmanan, ex change student from Sweden and team captain Nadia Zedan are some of the star swimmers who led the team through the year his year the girls'

A new coaching staff also helped to boost enthusiasm on the team. The new coaches Claire Hollman and Scott Rickel, who have both had experience in competetive swimming, tried a few new coaching tactics this year 'We are providing conditioning for personal and team improvement. We are taking a more mental approach to swimming," said Hollman.

Bickel supported her by saying, "The team members' supporting each other is more important than winning." Team members appreciated the efforts of the coaches and developed a great respect for them.

At the beginning of the season the team was especially looking forward to the meet against Muir, an especially strong team. Although the meet was expected to be a tough one, team members were optimistic. They felt that through a combination of hard work and team spirit they could successfully take on the Mustangs. "Our team works great together as a whole said Zedan. "When one per son wins we all feel like win ners. This team unity and spirit has helped us succeed in past years and will definitely help us this season. If we work to gether and cheer each other on, anything can be accomplished

mer triathlete, said, "We have several very talented swimmers on the team this year," yet, he emphasized the importance of commitment and team unity

Co-captains Rose and Vodnoy both three year members of the Bulidog water polo and swim teams, were optimistic about the season. Vodnoy said, "I feel this team has a great deal of poten tial. Hopefully it will help us earn a strong record in league." Rose followed by saying, "The enthusiasm we've been seeing from everyone is really encouraging No matter how fast we can swim, without that enthusiasm, we wouldn't have a chance." Over the next two years, it is hoped that they will be able to build up a strong, winning team them compete well throughout the season

The JV baseball team, led by the pitching of Pablo Poloni and Jeff Sorenson, the speed of Tino Harris and John McCoy, as well as the strong batting of Sammy Carrillo, had a very successful season

This year," said Poloni
"was definitely better than last year because we worked much harder

"Our team as a whole," said Carrillo, "was extremely strong and talented this season

The IV tennis team also had a powerful team with many recruited members who had ore vious experience in the sport. Because of this, time did not have to be wasted on instruction, leaving room to work more thoroughly on perfection of skills

We came a long way," said coach Eugene Peterson," and progressed a great deal through the course of the sea son. It was rewarding to watch the dedication that these young athletes put out to win

With players ranging from freshmen to juniors, the team had a lot of diversity and talent

The cooperation of a feam of talented infielders helped the Bulldogs to succeed. Among those who were looked to for leadership were Sean Dixon, an All League second baseman last year; John Puente and Peter Zurdema, pitchers; Victor Gordo Alex Lyle and Hovel Babikian

Outhelder Kenny Philips, catcher David Grithiths, inhelder Alex Guerrero and pitcher John Wortham also played an important part in this year's season. These juniors will be looked to next year for leadership and will be expected to carry on the team's tradition of commitment and unity

Yearbook Staff Has Rough Year

I k i'l lil t , e yet

Billion to Chair

Goals, Ambitions Achieved Through Togetherness

he 1986-'87 school year has come to an end. Each one of us has learned a great deal in this seemingly endless span of time. Whether it be a new language learned or a new field of science conquered, each student has widened his or her range of knowledge. And no one student has done it alone. All of us have worked together as a team, on and off the field. Even the brightest student on the campus had to make the grade with the help of an outside source. When times became tough, we helped each other out the best we could. We may have had to wait, but eventually someone came to the rescue. A poet once wrote, "When things go wrong, as they sometimes will, when the road you're trudging seems all uphill, when the funds are low and the debts are high and you want to smile, but you have to sigh, when care is pressing you down a bit, rest! if you must - but never quit."

That poet was really referring to a boxer. However, that passage could and does coincide with life's everyday battles. And as each one of us leaves this facility of knowledge, we should remember that we made it, not alone, but together. And we should pass on this knowledge to future generations. One final note — things get done faster and better when we work together.
